Your child's reading is very important to their understanding of all the different subjects. Listening to and encouraging your child's reading will be of enormous benefit.

Reading books should be brought into school every day and will be changed on at least a weekly basis.

Please try to listen to your child read as often as possible during the week and remember to ask one or two questions about the story and/or characters:

"What do you think will happen next?"

"Who do you like in the story?" "Why?"

"What would you have done?" etc.

Thank you
